THE SUCCESS STORY CONTINUES...

Britain can once again be proud of its creative legacy. Consumers recognise handmade as having collectable appeal, this is helping to secure the future for the UK craft industry and its very skilled designer-makers.

The Arts and Crafts Movement of the early Twentieth Century celebrated all that was great about British handmade. Today, with established makers such as Grayson Perry fueling the imagination of our future stars, Britain continues to leave its mark on the creative world.

At BCTF you will find the very best of British crafts with 500 exhibitors, all of whom have been vetted and are ready to supply to trade buyers.

A high percentage of our exhibitors only show at BCTF; these previously unseen collections are reason enough to make the trip to Harrogate. The choice offered to the buyer is extensive, not only from our new exhibitors, of which there are many, but also from our regulars showcasing their new 2015 ranges.
